ABOUT ME

With a robust foundation in computer science from Edwardes College and ongoing advanced studies in Artificial intelligence at the Sir Syed CASE Institute, my career in technology has been both dynamic and enriching. At Sir Syed CASE Institute, I actively contribute to advancements in Artificial intelligence, applying my programming expertise to drive innovation and deepen our collective understanding of this transformative field.

In addition, I leverage my extensive programming experience from previous roles to enhance the scope and impact of various projects. This dual focus allows me to seamlessly integrate cutting-edge AI solutions with strategic marketing initiatives, ensuring a holistic approach to technology adoption and innovation.

I am deeply passionate about pushing the boundaries of technological capabilities and am dedicated to making meaningful contributions to the tech community. My commitment to excellence propels me to continuously learn and stay at the forefront of emerging technologies.
